I. AP REVIEW

A. Stop the Clock option (STC-COVID) and Retroactive Pay for eligible faculty at the Assistant rank

1. First Announcement
   https://ap.uci.edu/addtlguidancecovid19/

   March 29, 2020 — UCI announced a COVID-19 stop the clock (COVID-STC) provision for faculty members at the Assistant rank in the following series: Professor/Professor of Teaching/Professor In Residence/Professor of Clinical X, Health Sciences Clinical Professor (at more than 50% time) and Adjunct Professor (at more than 50% time).

2. Second Announcement: Extension of Eligibility

   July 30, 2020 — COVID STC is updated to extend eligibility to new junior faculty joining the university while we are operating in pandemic mode. In addition, notification dates for activation were also adjusted such that faculty are not required to activate the COVID-STC until June 30 of the year before they want to delay their midcareer assessment or promotion. We also confirmed that a faculty member who has activated a STC can rescind this at any time and proceed to be reviewed at normative time without any penalty. Finally, if an individual has already had two STCs previously, they can still request a third COVID-STC (subject to UCOP approval).

3. Third Announcement: Retroactive Pay
   https://ap.uci.edu/covid19stcrevision/

   October 15, 2020 — We recognize the financial implications of a year delay in the salary increase for faculty who take a COVID-STC due to disruptions to research/scholarly activity associated with the COVID-19 pandemic. In an effort to reduce the salary disadvantage from delaying promotion, the Provost has approved making the promotion salary increment retroactive to the previous year, once a faculty member taking COVID-19 STC is promoted to tenure/security of employment. The promotion rank and step will not be retroactive.
Compendium of UCI Measures to Support Faculty Given COVID-19 Disruptions

4. Fourth Announcement: Retroactive Pay Implementation
   COVID-19 Stop the Clock Retroactive Pay Implementation

   January 13, 2021 — The retroactive pay component was added to reduce the salary disadvantage from delaying the promotion to associate rank. Assistant rank faculty who initiated the COVID-STC and have a subsequent regular review action that results in a reappointment without a salary increase (due to low productivity related to COVID-19) will, at the point of promotion to associate rank, receive the promotion salary retroactive to the previous year.

5. Fifth Announcement: Extended Eligibility for COVID-STC
   https://ap.uci.edu/events/summerupdates2021/

   July 28, 2021 — COVID-STC is available to all eligible titles at the Assistant rank, including new faculty starting their position at UCI in the 2021-2022 academic year.

B. One-year Review Deferral of Academic Review for Faculty at the Associate and Full Professor rank https://ap.uci.edu/covid19/covid-19-academic-review-faqs/

   Updated June 30, 2020 — The deferral due to COVID-19 is available to all associate rank and higher who are employed while the university is operating in COVID-19 pandemic mode (March 2020 – TBD). The deferral should be requested by June 30 of the year in which the review is to occur. The deferral will be Dean Delegated.

   Updated July 28, 2021 - A deferral due to COVID-19 is available to all faculty at associate rank and higher who were employed while the university was operating in COVID-19 pandemic mode (March 2020 – Spring 2021). Any post-tenure faculty who deferred a review during the 2020-2021 review cycle can request a consecutive deferral due to COVID-19 in the 2021-2022 review cycle. This deferral will be Dean Delegated and it can be requested any time during the year in which the review would normally occur.

   Individuals who are due for a 5-year review in 2021-22 can request a deferral. The first deferral will be Dean Delegated. Any third consecutive deferral request will require dean and chair to provide justification to the VPAP.

   Individuals who were due for a required 5 year review and were approved for a deferral and then request a second consecutive deferral in the 6th year, will require Vice Provost approval with a justification from the dean and chair.

C. Teaching Evaluations Exemption

1. Initial Announcement — March 18, 2020
   https://ap.uci.edu/apreviewcovid19/

2. Extension Announcement — November 18, 2020
   https://ap.uci.edu/studentevalswinter-spring2020/

   Faculty have the option to exclude Winter 2020, Spring 2020 and Fall 2020 teaching evaluations from their file when they go up for review. Teaching evaluations will be watermarked to denote COVID-19 emergency teaching.

   Evidence of Teaching: Two kinds of teaching evidence are still required for all reviews. A Reflective Teaching Statement is often most helpful, especially when faculty want to explain circumstances that may have impacted teaching plans. Peer reviews, syllabi, or other evidence are also acceptable if a faculty member does not have student evaluations in this review period (https://ap.uci.edu/faculty/guidance/).

3. Teaching Evaluation Policy since Winter 2021
   https://ap.uci.edu/events/summerupdates2021/

   Winter, Spring, Fall 2020 evaluations were watermarked with “COVID-19” and would be excluded from future review unless the faculty chooses to include them. If faculty elect to include evaluations, they should be discussed in their AP case as per normal procedures. If faculty elect to exclude evaluations, they should not be included or discussed in review materials.

   Starting with Winter 2021, teaching evaluations are required in the review, still watermarked with “COVID-19” through Fall 2021.

4. Watermark Continues - Update January 24, 2022
   Due to ongoing pandemic issues, student evaluations of teaching will still have the COVID-19 watermark for both Fall 2021 and Winter 2022.

5. Watermark Discontinued – Update April 11, 2022
   Student evaluations of teaching for Spring Quarter 2022 classes will not have the COVID-19 watermark.

D. Current CAP and AP Recommendation about Review Files
https://ap.uci.edu/events/summerupdates2021/

July 28, 2021 - Faculty are encouraged to submit their merit file on time for the 2021-22 review cycle if they have made strong contributions to teaching and service during the review period; and their contributions to research/creative activity are consistent with the achievement relative to opportunities, even if productivity/impact is less than expected pre-COVID-19.

Achievement Relative to Opportunities principles encourage “evaluation of candidates fairly based on their individual review-period professional accomplishments by taking into account unexpected or disruptive circumstances during that period that may have curtailed the candidate’s normal ability to achieve expected outcomes.” (From UC Academic Senate Recommendations to President Drake on Mitigating COVID-19 Impacts on Faculty, 1/26/21)

If otherwise: COVID-stop the clock (pre-tenure) and COVID-deferral (post-tenure) are available.

Accelerations will require similar activity and impact as prior to COVID-19.

If CAP is tentatively recommending against a normal merit or promotion (not acceleration) due to decreased research/creative activity there will be a tentative decision. Faculty will have the option to include additional scholarly/creative work from October 1, 2021 - December 31, 2021. (Note: As per normal process, faculty going up for promotion to tenure/SOE can add new materials until the final decision.)

September 15, 2021 – Further Guidance on Promotion/Advancement Files

The Council on Academic Personnel (CAP)/ Vice Provost for Academic Personnel (VPAP) offer the following guidance for faculty going up for promotion to tenure/SOE, promotion to full professor, advancements to Step 6, and to Above Scale this year (effective date July 1, 2022) and in subsequent review periods that include the COVID-19 pandemic.

CAP/VPAP will use a holistic approach in evaluating such cases, taking into account accomplishments across all interrelated aspects of faculty responsibilities, including research and scholarly activity, teaching and service. Promotions and advancements will require high levels of achievement in all areas, with increasing expectations as one moves up the professorial ladder.
Going forward, CAP/VPAP’s evaluation will also include consideration of the impact of the pandemic on performance based on how it is documented in the file (see guidance from CAP/VPAP for examples of the type of items to include), changes in the record of the candidate in the years prior to and during the pandemic, and efforts made to offset the impact on those most disadvantaged by COVID. CAP/VPAP recognize that one’s cumulative accomplishments (i.e., papers, external research awards, invited presentations, etc.) might be affected by the pandemic, and this will be carefully factored into the review.

Candidates must still demonstrate substantial scholarly contributions and sufficient leadership in said scholarly/creative work. There also must be evidence of effective teaching and mentoring, as well as appropriate contributions to service.

Those unsure of whether or not to submit their file should consult with the leadership of their unit, and if desired can take advantage of the Stop the Clock (STC)/COVID-STC option for pre-tenure/SOE files or deferral for post-tenure/SOE files.

E. AP and CAP Guidance to Faculty About Documenting COVID-19 Impacts https://ap.uci.edu/documentingcovid19-updated/

July 23, 2021 — The Vice Provost for Academic Personnel and the Council on Academic Personnel (CAP) recognize the significant impact of COVID-19 on the ability of faculty to perform all aspects of their work, including research, teaching and service. We strongly encourage faculty to document COVID-19 related issues with regard to their professional achievements in their self-statements (teaching, research, service and/or inclusive excellence, as may be relevant/appropriate). While faculty are not expected to provide personal details about difficult individual circumstances, the impact of these circumstances can be included. Some examples of the types of non-confidential information that might be provided are listed below:

1. Changes in teaching workload relative to department or school norms, or teaching overloads undertaken due to impacts on other faculty;

2. Negative impacts due to diminished available resources (lack of lab equipment, course software, or TA support);

3. Additional efforts required for student advising and mentoring beyond the regular expectations (e.g., support provided for emotional or mental health, or economic and social issues);
Compendium of UCI Measures to Support Faculty Given COVID-19 Disruptions

4. Contributions to initiatives for mitigating the impact of the pandemic, both within one’s own discipline and in the community at large;

5. Lost opportunities for scholarly and professional recognition both on campus and professionally, including invited lectures, plenary sessions at meetings, etc.;

6. Additional work required to maintain operation of research labs or other facilities, including implementation of disinfection and distancing protocols;

7. Loss of specific scholarly activity or funding opportunities (e.g., performances, fellowships, sabbaticals, field trials, collaborations) due to restricted travel, closed facilities, lack of access to research subjects, or other pandemic-induced influences;

8. Delays due to increased time required for reviews and publication of books and articles.

The type of information listed above will be critical in enabling all levels of review including the department, school and CAP, to conduct equitable evaluation of merit and promotion cases for faculty that will take into account the impact of COVID-19.

F. COVID-19 External Letter Solicitation Guidance

https://ap.uci.edu/policies-procedures/app/3-60/samplelettersofpromotion/

The paragraph below is an example of text that AP and CAP suggest be included in a solicitation letter, either in the body of the letter or as a note below the Chair’s signature. If outside letters were already requested but not yet returned, Chairs are encouraged to send a short supplemental letter to outside reviewers with the information from this paragraph.

“Beginning in March 2020 the COVID-19 pandemic significantly disrupted operations, including instructional delivery, at UCI and the rest of the U.S. As a result, our campus underwent a rapid transition to remote learning and staffing of the campus before the end of the winter quarter. All classes continued online for spring quarter and summer sessions. Research facilities including labs and libraries were closed through June 2020, when a phased reopening began. As of September 2020, UCI is observing an in-person return to a maximum of 30% occupancy in campus buildings. In conjunction with the disruptions experienced on-campus, many faculty were working out of their homes while simultaneously providing childcare due to closures of daycare facilities and K-12 schools, and or elder care. With these research disruptions and significant shifts in teaching modalities as well as challenges with dependent care that impacts productivity, we ask that you take these unprecedented events into consideration when evaluating work performed by the candidate.”

Updated guidance for External Letters Solicitation

Updated: October 7, 2021

The paragraph below is an example of text that AP and CAP suggest be included in a solicitation letter, either in the body of the letter or as a note below the Chair’s signature. If outside letters were already requested but not yet returned, Chairs are encouraged to send a short supplemental letter to outside reviewers with the information from this paragraph.

“During the pandemic, starting in March 2020, there have been major research disruptions and significant shifts in teaching modalities as well as challenges with dependent care that have impacted faculty productivity. 6. UC Approves Additional 80 Hours Emergency Paid Sick Leave Use – February 23, 2022

B. EFML - Emergency Family Medical Leave
   https://ap.uci.edu/2020dependentcareleaves/

1. If a faculty member is unable to do their work due to a COVID-19 day care/school closure that requires them to be home with their dependent(s), they may work remotely if operationally feasible. If demands of dependent care make it impossible for faculty to work, even when work is remote, they may request paid leave:
   a. Emergency Paid Sick Leave (EPSL) and/or 2) Expanded Family and Medical Leave (EFML).
      ▪ EFML is available to eligible individuals through December 31, 2020.
      ▪ As of March 29, 2021, EPSL has been extended and is now available to eligible individuals through September 30, 2021. If an employee took any leave between January 1, 2021 and March 28, 2021 for one or more of the above EPSL qualifying reasons but was not paid, the employee may request that the University allow them to retroactively use EPSL.

2. Eligibility: Faculty unable to work because they are caring for their child whose school or place of care has closed (or whose child care provider is unavailable) due to COVID-19.
   a. Faculty member must certify that there is no other suitable person to care for their child (or dependent) during the period for which leave is requested. For children older than 14, special circumstances need to be explained.
   b. According to UCOP guidance, faculty in the School of Medicine, Program in Public Health, School of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, and Sue & Bill Gross School of Nursing are classified as health care workers and, as such, are not eligible for these Families First Coronavirus Response Act (FFCRA) leaves, but may be eligible to use UC Expanded Paid Administrative Leave (EPAL), vacation leave, or PTO, subject to the normal approval process for this purpose.

3. Coverage: By combining EPSL and EFML, faculty will receive pay and benefits for up to 12 weeks in total. Paid leaves are funded by the regular campus budget allocations (this option is only available through December 31, 2020).

C. Sick/Paid Medical Leave (in effect through December 31, 2020)
   https://ap.uci.edu/apm710childcareusefall2020/

   1. Faculty who do not accrue sick leave are permitted to request one (1) course reduction or release from major service obligations in Fall 2020, for childcare reasons due to the COVID-19 precautions. If approved, four (4) weeks will be deducted from their paid medical leave benefit.

   2. Faculty with 10 years or less of UC service have 2 quarters (24 weeks within this first 10-year period) of paid medical leave.

   3. Faculty with more than 10 years of service have 3 quarters (36 weeks within each subsequent 10-year period) of paid medical leave.

   4. Academic appointees who accrue sick leave may request to use accrued sick leave for childcare reasons due to the COVID-19 precautions.

   5. Health Science Compensation Plan (HSCP) faculty are not eligible for this leave as they fall under the provisions of APM-670.

   6. Represented Appointees: Appointees covered by the Librarian (LX), Postdoctoral Scholar (PX), and Academic Researcher (AR) labor contracts may request to use accrued sick leave for childcare reasons due to the COVID-19 precautions.

   7. Subject to collective bargaining, the use of sick leave for childcare is currently not available to those appointed in the Lecturer titles (Unit 18).

   8. Academic Student Employees (ASEs) do not accrue sick leave and are therefore not eligible for this temporary policy exception. Note that there are other provisions for ASEs related to leave for childcare reasons, including a temporary exception to the ASE Childcare Reimbursement. For more information please visit: https://ap.uci.edu/wp-content/uploads/TempFall2020-Exception_-ASEGSRchildcare.pdf

D. 2022 EMERGENCY PAID SICK LEAVE (EPSL)

   Effective February 19, 2022 through September 30, 2022, the University of California is providing up to 80 hours of 2022 Emergency Paid Sick Leave (2022 EPSL) for full-time employees and the two-week equivalent for part-time employees (staff and academic employees, including represented, student, and healthcare employees). The 2022 EPSL provides the following:
Compendium of UCI Measures to Support Faculty Given COVID-19 Disruptions

1. If an employee took any leave between January 1, 2022 and February 18, 2022 for one or more of the qualifying EPSL reasons, the employee may request that the University allow them to retroactively use 2022 EPSL retroactively to January 1, 2022; and

2. Employees hired on or before September 30, 2021 who did not exhaust their 2021 EPSL entitlement are also eligible to use any remaining 2021 EPSL entitlement during the 2022 EPSL period until September 30, 2022 if one or more of the six qualifying reasons apply.

C. Program Details

The UC Irvine Interim COVID-19 Modified Duties Shared Funding Program (ICMD) was developed in consultation with Deans, Academic Senate Leadership and School Equity Advisors, and following guidelines and approval from UCOP Provost Michael T. Brown.

The Interim COVID-19 Modified Duties (ICMD) Shared Funding program is designed to help schools support our faculty in the assistant ranks, whose research/creative activities have been disrupted by additional dependent care responsibilities due to COVID-19. Eligible faculty can apply using the UCI-AP-ICMD form for teaching release during one quarter. This is not a leave as the faculty members will be expected to redirect the effort normally directed to teaching during the quarter toward their research and creative activities. This program aims to provide shared funding support to allow eligible faculty the flexibility to identify a quarter, between Winter 2021 and Spring 2022, that will be most advantageous for their specific scholarly and research activities.

The request for ICMD will be considered by the Chair and Dean who will take into account the curricular needs of the department/school, availability of school funds, issues of equity within and across departments, and benefit to the requesting faculty member. Additional considerations will include availability and cost of replacement...
Compendium of UCI Measures to Support Faculty Given COVID-19 Disruptions

instructors. We encourage units to explore opportunities to hire current/recently graduated UCI Ph.D. students or postdoctoral scholars as replacement instructors.

The Dean will forward the completed request with a rationale for funding support that is designated as high, medium, or low priority to the Office of Academic Personnel. The Vice Provost for Academic Personnel will make final funding decisions that take into account equitable distribution of funding across campus.

For requests approved for funding, the Office of Academic Personnel will provide matching funds of up to $3,000/course, for up to two courses for each faculty toward the support of replacement instructors. The school will cover the remaining expenses of the replacement instructors. If courses are canceled, funding will not be provided.

C. Program Details: https://ap.uci.edu/covid19/icrrp/

UCI aims to enhance the ability of Assistant and Associate-rank Academic Senate faculty members whose research/creative activity has been significantly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic to recover from that loss. The Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor has allocated $1 million in funding to support a pilot Interim COVID-19 Research Recovery Program (ICRRP) as an investment in faculty research/creative activity. The ICRRP expects to make individual awards with an average range of $5,000 to $30,000, although larger requests may be considered.

Applicants can choose from two funding proposal deadlines: September 20, 2021 and January 14, 2022, with funds expected to be equitably divided between the two. Pending results of the AY 2021-2022 calls and observed outcomes, the program may be renewed for additional rounds of funding.
